Du Quoin Fair to Open Sunday for 9 Packed Days

George Gobel and McGuire Sisters In Stage Shows

DU QUOIN, Ill. (AP) — The Du Quoin State Fair, which bills itself as "America's Blue Ribbon Fair," opens its gates for the 33rd year Sunday with the proud claim of being bigger and better than ever.

On tap for the visitors from all over the nation will be a nine-day, double barreled program of agricultural exhibits and grandstand entertainment.

Livestock, grains and vegetables, culinary arts and homemaking exhibits will share the spotlight with the grandstand program that includes two stage revues, and motorcycle, harness and auto racing.

"Bigger and better" is a fitting phrase for the livestock show which attracted nearly 3,000 entries of livestock valued at more than $3,000,000 dollars. The exhibitors will compete for $65,000 in premium awards on their blue-ribbon animals in the judging that is the heart of every fair.

George Gobel stars "Stagerama 1955" is the nightly show before the million dollar grandstand Monday through Sunday, Sept. 4. The McGuire Sisters of the Arthur Godfrey shows headline the revue that includes vaudeville acts, acrobats, dancers, jugglers, animal acts and musicians.

George Gobel, the newest television comedy star, tops the second revue that will play before the grandstand Labor Day night. Gobel will bring an entirely different program with him from Hollywood, including Monica Lewis, movie actress-singer.

The first afternoon of racing on the one-mile dirt track will feature American Motorcycle Assn. championship races Sunday afternoon. The track will be busy every day of the fair as harness races and then auto racing follow the "cycle events."

Harness Racing
The five-day harness program of offering $150,000 in purses will be highlighted by Wednesday's program when $65,100 will be at stake, making it the "big money day" of the meet.

Labor Day weekend will be filled with auto racing with a 100-mile stock car event Saturday, big car sprints on Sunday and the 100-mile Ted Horn memorial race for big cars Labor Day. Bob Sweikert, winner of the Indianapolis 500-mile race this year, and other top "500" finishers are entered in most of the weekend events.

Another regular feature of the fair Monday through Friday will be the Society Horse Show offering $12,000 in prizes. The Du Quoin State Fair was the first to hold such a horse show at night in an outdoor arena. The show, which attracted entries from the leading stables of the country, will be capped Friday with the Col. Gus Thompson five-gaited champion ship.

Champions in Different Fields: Beauty Queen Selected at Eldorado, Gallatin Names County and District Plowing King, Gregg Naas, of Ridgway

MISS ELDORADO FALL FESTIVAL—Miss Claudette Justice, center, was crowned Queen of the Eldorado Fall Festival Friday night, following a beauty pageant staged in downtown Eldorado. Winner of second place in the beauty contest was Miss Pat Elder, at right, and Miss Linda Sontra, left, received third place honors. There were fifteen beautiful young women in the pageant, sponsored by the Junior Women's Club of Eldorado. Judges for the event were Mrs. Mary Harper of Harrisburg, Saline County Home Adviser; Van McDonald, Carrier Mills banker and Darwin Valtier of Ridgway, new coach at Shawneetown high school. The girls first appeared on the stage in formal dress and later in bathing suits. Mayor Carl Johnson placed the crown on Queen Claudette and Miss Sue Ellen Gray, president of the Junior Women's Club, presented the cups to Miss Elder and Miss Sontra. This is the first year a beauty pageant has been staged in connection with the annual Fall Festival at Eldorado, but proved so popular it undoubtedly will become a regular feature. Miss Justice and Miss Elder were attendants to the Eldorado Foothill Homecoming Queen last fall and Miss Justice will represent Eldorado in a contest to select Miss Southern Illinois at West Frankfort this fall. The Eldorado Fall Festival will close following the program this evening. It started Tuesday night and has attracted large crowds during the four-day run. (Daily Register Staff Photo)

WHITING, Ind. (AP) — An explosion smashed through a unit of the huge Standard Oil of Indiana refinery here today bringing death to two persons, shattering nearby buildings with flying sheets of steel, and setting off a spectacular fire.

At least 19 persons were injured. Eleven of them, and one of the dead, were children, hurt as they slept by flying glass or debris as the force of the window-smashing blast pounded through the area. The other fatality was a company employee who died of a heart attack brought on by exertion fighting the fire.

Persons within an area of at least five blocks were knocked from their beds, some to flee their homes in panic as geysers of fire welled up from the explosion area. Onlookers poured into the area, meeting persons trying to get out and hampering the efforts of firemen from nearby communities to get to the blast scene.

Scattered fires broke out beyond the plant area. The explosion came about 5:15 a. m. CST in the fluid hydroformer area, a 26-story processing unit, largest of its kind in the world, where low-octane gasoline is converted to high. A new unit, it was still being test-run and was not yet in commercial operation.

Neighbors were aroused by the resounding blast followed by three smaller explosions. Sheets of steel and other debris spouted along the street. One steel sheet went through the wall of the home of Frank Plewniak, injuring him and his wife, killing their son Richard, 3, and tearing the leg from Ronnie, 8.

Flames spread down Indianapolis Boulevard, upon which the plant is located, and by 9 a. m. CST had covered an area three blocks long. Fanned by wind, the flames heated for a crude oil tank farm, and company officials feared they might reach the old hydro-former unit.

Walter Rhea, 63, was the company employee who died.

Mrs. Eugene Choissier Granted Leave by ETHS
The Board of Education of Dist. No. 102, the Eldorado high school district, has granted Mrs. Eugene Choissier a leave of absence due to illness for the school term of 1955-56. This leaves one vacancy on the high school faculty. Any person qualified to teach English is asked to contact W. A. Knopf, principal of the Eldorado Township high school, as he is desirous of filling the position as soon as possible.

Hunt Youth in Killing of Girl, 14, at Mattoon

Witness Says Saw Tall, Thin Man With Mustache at Home

MATTOON, Ill. (AP) — City and state police today pressed their search for a mustachioed youth with long sideburns—thought to be the killer of Doris Edwards, the 14-year-old daughter of a church custodian.

However, the value of the mustache-and-sideburns clue was diminished since hundreds of men are wearing them as part of the city's centennial celebration.

The victim, a pretty girl who looked older than her years, was shot twice while her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William D. Edwards, were at work Friday.

Mrs. Charles Ballinger, a neighbor, told police she saw a tall, thin man with long sideburns and a mustache drive up to the Edwards home about noon. He entered the house and a short time later there were screams and gunshots, she said.

The man ran from the house and sped away in the car, Mrs. Ballinger said.

Police, aided by several private planes, started a search of the city and surrounding area.

The girl's body was found behind the house. Police said Doris ran from the house after the shooting. A bullet was found lodged in the living room woodwork, they said.

Police said they had been unable to discover a motive for the slaying.

Former Saline Resident Wins Top Farm Award at Louisiana State University

The Victor H. Schrieffer family of South Perry in Vermillion parish was among 19 Louisiana farm families who received "Master Farm Family" awards at ceremonies held during Farm and Home Week on the Louisiana State University campus last week.

Mr. Schrieffer has known nothing but tilling the soil since a youngster in Saline county, where he lived three miles south of Eldorado on the Billman road until he moved to Louisiana. Numerous relatives still reside in that area, and a cousin, J. W. Alvey, who lives on North Mill street in this city, was present when the Schrieffer family received their award.

"Master Farm Family" awards are based on meritorious achievement in farming, homemaking and citizenship. The winners were selected because of their interest in community betterment, including schools, churches, roads, co-operative movements and for their good reputation and good character and having adopted recommended practices from experiment stations on the family farm which has influenced other people observing such operations to make them applicable to their farms.

He was the first farmer in Vermillion parish to produce certified rice seed and to use defoliant to hasten maturity of his rice crops. This outstanding supervisor of a 600-acre farm has drilled, broadcast and water-planted rice, depending upon which method best suited his condition. He uses pasture-to-rice rotation and maintains a herd of top grade beef cattle with top-notch pastures and in alternate years bumper yields of rice.

His wife is the former Emma B. Reynolds of New Iberia, La. The family consists of father, mother, Margaret Anna, Ruth, Elizabeth and Allen Marshall. All of the children are of school age and all are active in 4-H work. Another son, Henry, was killed in action serving his country during the Korean conflict.

Second Installment Real Estate Taxes Delinquent Sept. 1

Maynard Cannon, county treasurer and collector, today reminded the public that the second installment of all real estate taxes will become delinquent Sept. 5.

Payment before that date will save costs, he pointed out.

Services First Time Tomorrow in New Primitive Baptist Building at Ledford

Services will be held for the first time tomorrow in the Ledford Primitive Baptist church building, which has just recently been completed at the junction of Route 45 and Liberty road.

The church was organized in May of 1953 at the home of J. V. Sullivan in Ledford by the present pastor, Eld. Aaron Reeder whose membership was in Old Beach Primitive Baptist church near Wadesville, Ind.

The members organizing the church lettered out of Bethel's Creek Primitive Baptist church for that purpose. Six members came from Bethel's Creek and one from Cottage Grove church south of Eldorado which ceases to exist. The seats in the new church were given to Eld. Reeder by the former Cottage Grove members.

Regular meetings were held by the church at the home of Elder Reeder in Ledford until his home was destroyed by fire June 26, in which all records and documents were consumed. Since that time no meetings have been held pending the erection of the present church building upon land donated for that purpose by Clifford Stricklin of Harrisburg.

The pastor and members today said they are grateful for the many donations of both money and labor so freely given by the friends and members of the church.

Bold Proposal Would Enforce Border Peace

Could Head Off Full-Scale War In Middle East

By DONALD J. GONZALES
United Press Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON (AP)—Britain joined the United States today in a dramatic offer to enforce peace on the strife-torn Arab-Israeli border by guaranteeing each side against attack by the other.

The bold proposal, designed to head off a full-scale Middle East war that intelligence reports had warned was in the making, was advanced by Secretary of State John Foster Dulles Friday night, with the personal endorsement of President Eisenhower.

It won prompt support from Britain, and generally favorable comment from United Nations officials and key members of Congress.

But there was no immediate response from Israel or the Arab states, whose acceptance would be necessary to put the plan into operation.

The urgency of the situation that prompted Dulles' proposal was underscored, however, by reports of a new clash between Arab and Israeli forces along the blood-soaked Gaza frontier.

Outlines Three Points
Dulles, in a speech before the Council on Foreign Relations in New York, outlined a three-point U. S. offer to (1) help work out permanent boundaries between Israel and the Arab states; (2) pledge U. S. military force to "prevent or thwart any effort by either side to alter by force" the agreed borders; and (3) put up a "substantial" loan to help resettle Arab refugees from Israel.

He invited other countries to join in the guarantees, under U. N. sponsorship.

Britain took up the invitation after commending the United States for "constructive and useful initiative" in trying to halt Middle East bloodshed.

The Foreign Office in London said in a prepared statement: "Her Majesty's government agree with the United States government in thinking that it should be possible to reach a settlement of these problems by direct or indirect negotiations without detriment to the vital interests of either side."

U. N. Leader Applauds
Even as Dulles spoke, new clashes between Arab and Israeli forces were reported along the Gaza frontier, where Egyptians said they killed 12 Jews who had crossed the truce line. The Israelis charged an Egyptian force had sneaked into Israel.

Diplomats agreed Dulles timing was perfect and U. N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold voiced hope that the plan could be the "beginning of a general stabilization of conditions" in the troubled Middle East.

Dulles said the United States would be willing to join in formal treaty negotiations to "prevent or thwart any effort by either side to alter by force the boundaries between Israel and its Arab neighbors."

Groceries Complete Contract with Union
Negotiations for a grocery store contract for 10 cities in southern Illinois including Harrisburg and Eldorado have been completed, Guy Price, vice president of the Southern Illinois district of the Retail Clerks' International association, reported today. The old contract expired Aug. 15.

Price said the new contract is a 24-months pact, with wage increases of from eight to 12 cents over the period. Two weeks vacation are provided for employees with two years or more of service, three weeks for those with 15 years or more.

Price said the soft goods contract for Harrisburg expires Sept. 30. No date has been set for negotiations.

Korean Vets Taking Farm Training Will Get More Money under New Law

Most of Illinois' 3,320 veterans taking Korean GI Bill farm training will find more money in the GI pay envelopes they will receive in November, under a new law passed this month by the President.

The increased allowance checks will cover training taken in October, the month the new law goes into effect.

Robert D. Beer, VA's regional manager, said that veterans need not write to the Veterans Administration for their increases; they will be made automatically.

The new act, Public Law 280, provides that Korean GI farm trainees will receive the full rate of GI allowances for their first year of training. After that, the allowances will be reduced every four months.

Previously, farm trainees received the full rate only for the first four months, after which the amounts were reduced at four-month intervals.

Top rates for GI farm trainees are $95 a month with no dependents; $110 with one dependent; and $130 with more than one dependent.

Veteran-farmers who will receive increases in the checks they get in November are those whose monthly training pay already had been reduced, under the old system.

Beer said that veterans getting the full rate of GI allowance at the time the law goes into effect, as well as those who start their GI training in the future, also will benefit from the new law in the months ahead, because they will receive the top allowance rate for their first year in training, rather than for merely their first four months.

After the first year, the monthly amount will drop at four-month intervals, as they progress in their training.

Farm Number Drops, But Size Increases

By FRANK L. SPENCER

CHICAGO — (UP) — American farms are getting larger and fewer. The number of farms in Illinois is the lowest since the Civil War period. But the present land area of Illinois farms is nearly half again larger.

The average Nebraska farm advanced from 157 acres in 1880 to 451 acres in 1953, a growth of nearly 300 per cent.

Missouri has lost 39,000 farms in the past 20 years, Minnesota 28,000 and Texas 171,000.

A rural revolution seems to be erasing steadily from the national scene the picture of the American farm as most of us remember it.

Farm authorities queried by the United Press generally agreed the revolution was touched off by a combination of mechanical and economic factors.

Harold Hutton, president of the Oklahoma's Agricultural board, explained it this way:

"The ability of one man to farm more acres is the principal reason for the reduction in the number of farms. The trend toward grassland and the fact that land is so costly are other factors. A young man who wants to be a farmer these days has to have considerable capital in order to get started."

This was reflected in a report on Texas agriculture. There were 170,450 fewer farms in Texas in 1950 than in 1935. But while the value of the 501,017 farms in 1935 was set at $2,573,704,000, the 331,367 farms in 1950 were valued at $6,720,531,000.

The year 1935 apparently was the high point of U. S. agriculture in total number of farms. The U. S. Department of Agriculture reported there were 6,814,000 farms that year, 1,389,000 more than in 1954. New York state's 1935 farm population was 784,483. In 1950 it was 577,654.

There was an abundance of farms and farmers in 1935 but not much money. A Washington agriculture observer said the 1935 farm total—343,000 higher than 1925—was a reflection of the depression. People, he said, couldn't make a living in town, so they went back to the farm. Then, as the nation's economy improved, the flow reversed.

Math Dahl, North Dakota's commissioner of agriculture, said that following World War II "the more successful farmers bought up more property."

"Nobody quits an occupation if there's money in it," Dahl added. The New England states in 1935 had a total of 158,241 farms. In 1940 that total was 135,190. In 1945 it was 150,311 and in 1950 there were 133,225 farms—a loss of 55,016 in 15 years.

Roy J. Freeland, secretary of Kansas' board of agriculture, said that about 13½ per cent of the U. S. population is producing agricultural needs for the entire nation. A hundred years ago, Freeland said, 80 per cent of the population was required to do the same job.

"This means," Freeland said, "that 60 per cent of our population has been released to devote their time to other activities which increase the standard of living of the nation."

Freeland said that some countries still need 80 per cent of their population to supply food.

The decrease in the number of farms means an increase in the size of farms. The average farm in New York in 1935 was 105 acres. In 1950 it was 128 acres. The average South Dakota acreage was 446 in 1935 and 677 in 1952. Pennsylvania's average farm last year was 91 acres after growing at the rate of an acre a year.

The average Nebraska farm in 1940 was 385 acres. In 1935 it was 451 acres. Oregon farms averaged 289 acres in 1935 and 328 acres in 1954.

Dr. William Murray, Iowa State College agronomist, said a farmer who could operate 150 acres in 1915 can now farm 200 or 240 "and do it in less time."

VETERAN EMPLOYEES OF SEIEC—During the 16th annual meeting of the Southeastern Illinois Electric Co-op, held Monday and Tuesday, Aug. 22-23, ten employees, four with 15 years service and six with ten years service, were recognized and awarded service pins. Guy Tanner and George Butler, crew foremen from Harrisburg, with 15 and 10 years service respectively, were not present. Other 15-year pin winners were Sample, Rose and Spain. (Register Staff Photo)

SIU Country Column

By Albert Meyer

With corn fields mostly through the roasting ear stage it may seem a little early to begin talking about using corn pickers safely. Time passes rapidly in the farmer's busy summer work schedule, however, and corn picking time will be at hand before he realizes it.

Anyway, the suggestion seems good that the next rainy day keeping the farmer out of the field may be spent profitably in checking over the picker. Look for worn parts that should be replaced and order them at once. If the machine wasn't cleaned as it should have been when stored last winter, do that. All guards and shields for moving parts ought to be in place. That probably means that one or two discarded or thrown aside last year in the rush of harvest will need to be hunted up and put back on the machine.

Following the common sense rules of safety with corn pickers will make them as safe to operate as any other power machine on the farm and most likely would prevent the bloody harvest of fingers, hands, arms, legs, and lives that annually goes with the corn harvesting season. The Illinois Rural Safety Council has estimated that some 200 picker accidents occur in the state each year.

The agriculture engineer points out a few rules to follow in cutting out corn picker accidents.

One is to check the condition and adjustment of the snapping and husking rolls in the machine. When these are worn considerably it increases the possibility of clogging the machine and hence increases the danger to the operator who tries to unclog it. Types of rolls and the method of adjustment vary considerably from one make of machine to another, so the thing to do is to use the machine's instruction book.

Another operational rule is to keep all guards and shields for moving parts in place. They can not fill their purpose of protecting the limbs and life of the operator if they are not in place. It only takes a few moments to install or keep a shield in place.

A third reminder is to keep your wits on the job when operating a corn picker. Not all moving parts can be covered by guards. Letting the mind wander a moment when it ought to be on the subject of keeping from getting entangled in the machinery may cost the farmer an arm or a leg—or at least scare him half to death.

The parting — and perhaps the

4-H Club Leader Honored

Everett Porter, 4-H leader of the Rector club was honored at the KMOX studio in St. Louis August 6th. Mrs. Porter, Paul Plunkett, County 4-H Federation president, Mary Ann Thorn, and Katherine Wright, club members, also appeared on the program.

Farm Assets Up in 1954, FRS Reports

WASHINGTON (UP) — Farm assets in the United States rose 1.4 per cent during 1954 to a total value of $163,100,000,000 on Jan. 1, 1955, the Federal Reserve System reported in its balance sheet of agriculture.

The record first-of-year value of farm assets was 170 billion dollars on Jan. 1, 1952, following the rise in agricultural prices that resulted from the Korean outbreak.

The Federal Reserve's balance sheet views agriculture as though it were one large enterprise. In effect, it is comparable to a consolidated balance sheet of all farms, reviewing in general the previous year's financial condition of the agricultural economy.

The greatest dollar increase in farm assets—about $2,200,000,000—occurred in crop real estate.

The value of farm inventories increased about 400 million dollars in 1954 because of increased quantities in storage. Farmers also added about 500 million dollars to the value of their household furnishings and equipment. Financial assets owned by farmers increased about 100 million dollars.

The Federal Reserve said partly offsetting these increases were decreases in the value of livestock and of machinery and motor vehicles on farms.

Each of these dropped about 500 million dollars during 1954. All major classes of machinery and motor vehicles declined in value in 1954 because purchases were not sufficient to offset depreciation.

BILL OF FARE AT THE MOVIES—Above are Dean Martin and Jerry Lewis in a riotous scene from "You're Never Too Young," at the Orpheum Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, and below finds Fred Astaire and Leslie Caron in a smart dance routine from "Daddy Long Legs," at the Grand Sunday, Monday and Tuesday.

THE STORY: Gun-toughs, including Billy Claiborne, Johnny Ringo, Frank Stilwell and Pete Spence, are forced to tack up a notice against guns they tore down in Tombstone. The new deputy sheriff, Wyatt Earp, does the forcing. Afterwards he warns Johnny that he's getting off on the wrong foot and offers him a job as city marshal. Johnny shoots the badge off a table.

Riding along up Allen Street that fine morning Ringo was thinking it was about time he looked up Mr. Behan and had his talk with him. But history pulled the switch and shunted him over onto a side track.

As the roan came abreast of the O. K. Stable, Frank Stilwell along with Pete Spence and Billy Claiborne came riding out of it, heading up Allen and out of town to the north. That put them to moving straight into him. He pulled up and so did they. Stilwell started the talk off, apparently in some hurry about it.

"You want to see Behan?" "Yeah. Where can I find him?" "You can't. But you're just in time. We're heading out on a little job, now."

"Fair enough. I'll just ride along." He started to rein the roan around but Stilwell checked him. "You might as well start getting smart, right now. You work with this outfit, you don't advertise it in the middle of Allen Street. Ride around out of town, south, then cut around and hit back into the Burwell Springs road. We're heading for Tom and Frank McLowry's spread over at Sulphur Springs. Got to see Curly Bill on a little business. We'll hold up for you."

Ringo got a little edgy. "Where's Behan?" "In this business," replied the squat outlaw, "birds of a feather don't bunch up in the same bush. Behan don't go out'n his way to ride the main stem with the boys in broad daylight. Besides," the burly rider eyed him, "he's gone to Tucson on a little urgent business. Small matter to do with Charley Shibell getting a mite

Stilwell told Curly about Wyatt's six-gun order of that same morning and about Behan heading for Tucson the minute Wyatt had walked out of the Crystal Palace. What Curly thought of the order was first to snort, then naming off which hands he wanted to ride along with him back into town to call Wyatt's bluff.

"Let's see, Frank," he was talking to Stilwell — "you boys just come from town, so you'd maybe best lay over here at the ranch and leave some of the others of us handle this job. Ike, you and Billy come along." He turned to the McLowrys. "And Tom, you and Frank. That's five, but I like lucky numbers so we'll make it seven. Pony," he pointed to Pony Deal, a shaggy-headed youngster of about Ringo's age. "Get your boss."

"Hold on," waved Ringo, flashing his bad grin. "I'm the one that's bin put off on the most by Earp. Seems I'd ought to get to tag along and watch the fun."

Curly looked at him. He saw a tall kid, over six-two. Slender, he was, and with a fast grin and a hard laugh near as quick, if not so good, as Curly's own. He was a little narrow and wild in the eye, but he had a way about him, with his deep tan and short red hair, that got to a man. And his guns hung on him like he knew where to find them if he wanted them in more than a normal hurry.

"All right, kid, cut yourself a fresh hoss out'n the corral. Eight's always bin a bad number for me but maybe you can change my luck."

Prowling Mystery Solved; Kids Just Scaring Neckers

DAVENPORT, Iowa (UPI)—Police seized four youths Friday night and cracked the mystery of a band of white-masked men who prowled Davenport streets for the past week.

At first, it was thought the prowlers might be connected with the Ku Klux Klan.

But the youths, ranging in age from 15 to 18, said all they wanted to do was "scare neckers" in the park and have a little fun.

They said they became frightened when police warned publicly that the band might be "shot on sight."

The youths were seized while roaming the city wearing white shorts, adhesive tape crosses on their chests, and masks.

They named three other members of the band.

None of the youths was charged but police ordered all four to appear next week for a probation officer.

Use Roadblocks, Planes in Hunt for 2 Bank Bandits

POPULAR GROVE, Ill. (AP)—Roadblocks were set up in two states and three airplanes were sent aloft today in the search for a young man and woman who robbed the Popular Grove State Bank of $5,375 Friday.

The woman, about 25, was described by employees as calm and "rather hard looking," the man as nervous and soft in appearance.

The bandits fled in a 1946 maroon Nash toward Belvidere, Ill., and police of four counties on both sides of the Illinois-Wisconsin border joined the hunt.

Bank President L. I. Hattery said the man strode confidently into the bank flourishing a pistol and announced:

"This is a stickup. Let's have the money."

He forced Hattery, Hattery's wife and a customer to lie on the floor while he rifled the cash drawers. His woman companion waited "coolly" in the lobby, employees said.

The Guy Who Cashed It Could Be Anywhere

COLUMBIA, S. C. (AP)—A service station operator admitted today that he'd probably have little success getting his $8.50 back on a check he cashed which was drawn on the "Bank of Anywhere, Anywhere, U.S.A."

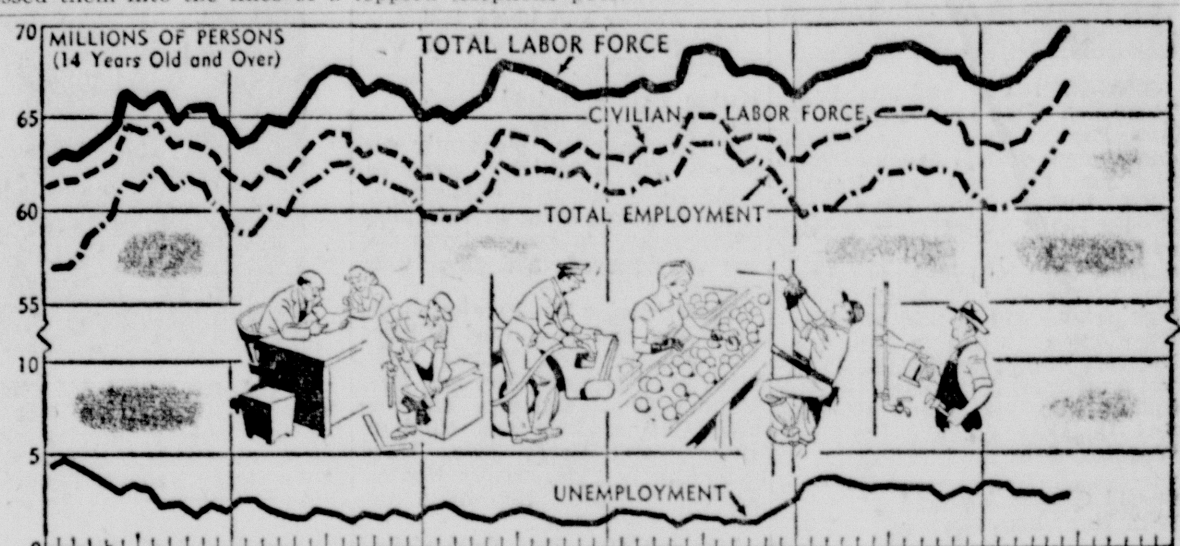

The operator said he suspected the check might be no good but the customer gave him a telephone number to call for verification and the voice on the line said the check was perfectly good if not for more than $25.

Air Transport Forced Down; Nobody Killed

MOTHER NATURE LEAVES HER TRACKS—Railroad tracks are left high and dry in the aftermath of floods at Farmington, Conn. The swirling waters ripped the rails and ties from the railroad bed and tossed them into the lines of a toppled telephone pole.

U. S. HITS RECORD EMPLOYMENT—At mid-1955 more Americans were working for their bread and butter than ever before—64 million of them. Dimmer side to the chart above is the slight rise in unemployment in June, but this was due to schools closing for the summer, crowding employment centers with youngsters seeking extra cash for clothes and dates. Increase in both employment and unemployment reflects the general increase in U. S. population. Data from Department of Commerce and Council of Economic Advisers.

America Loses First Two Davis Cup Matches

One More Loss in Three Remaining Tilts
Will Give It to Aussies

FOREST HILLS, N. Y. (AP)—Tony Trabert and Vic Seixas, overwhelmed in their opening singles matches by a pair of 20-year-old Australians, teamed up in the doubles today against Aussie Lew Hoad and Rex Hartwig in a sudden-death struggle to retain a grip on the Davis Cup.

A lacing by the Australians today or one more setback in the remaining two singles on Sunday means the prized international tennis trophy will be packed off to kangaroo country after only a one-season stay in America. Seixas and Trabert won back the trophy last December after three fruitless journeys down under.

"We've been beating them right along in the doubles," said Trabert. "I don't see why we can't keep on doing it."

Yet the manner in which the Australians ran up their 2-0 lead Friday indicated they have reached an unquenchable frame of mind to match their near-flawless strokes.

Rosewall, the Australian champion, whizzed through American champion Seixas, 6-3, 10-8, 4-6, 6-2, and Hoad out-slugged Trabert, 4-6, 6-3, 6-3, 8-6. Except for brief patches of top-flight tennis, the Americans were completely out-classed.

Stars at Carterville For Sunday Contest

The Harrisburg Stars will travel to Carterville Sunday for the fourth and final game of the season between the two teams. In three games to date Carterville has won two and Harrisburg one.

The Stars enter the game with a record of eight wins and as many losses.

Carterville is expected to start either White or Noakes on the hill with Trapani his receiver.

Players for Harrisburg will be Zeigler, Karnes, Price, Sissy, Shewmaker, Biedig, Cowger, K. Nolen, Smith, Harrison and Rauh. Roy Hughes, who joined the club last Sunday, will be out of action for at least two weeks with a badly sprained ankle.

The All-Stars are to meet at the town park diamond by 12:15 Sunday afternoon, ready to make the trip.

Giambra Cheered In Losing to Olson; To Meet for Title

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—A new star glistened over the fight world today in the person of Joey Giambra, a humble soldier from Buffalo, N. Y., who earned a shot at Bobo Olson's middleweight title although he lost an unpopular 10-round decision to the balding titlist.

Olson scored a unanimous decision over Giambra Friday night in a nationally televised bout at the Cow Palace, but the verdict was loudly booed and King Bobo must have felt like a stranger in the town which used to idolize him. The gate was announced at 7,000 with a gross of $22,000.

Right after the fight the IBC announced that Olson and Giambra will meet for the title in January or February, providing Bobo beats Sugar Ray Robinson in a fight scheduled for November.

It took all the savvy which Olson has stored up in his 10 years of fighting to outpoint the artistic Giambra, who jarred the champ

Indians to Bring Up Replacement for Wertz

CLEVELAND (AP)—General Manager Hank Greenberg said today the Cleveland Indians have received permission from Commissioner Ford Frick to bring up a replacement for the polo-stricken Vic Wertz from their Indianapolis farm club of the American Association. Greenberg said he probably would recall either Rudy Regalado or Rocky Calavito. Regalado is hitting .329 for the Indians while Calavito is batting .270.

With a solid right to the head in the second round and shook him Giambra, who jarred the champ

Needy White Sox

Purchase Ron Northey

CHICAGO (AP)—The stumbling Chicago White Sox had help on the way today in veteran outfielder Ron Northey. Northey, 35, was purchased from Minneapolis of the American Association, a New York Giant farm club, Friday night. As part of the deal, the Sox sent outfielder Gil Coan to the Giants along with an unannounced bundle of cash. In addition, outfielder Bill Wells from the Sox' Memphis farm will report to the Giants next spring.

Braves Still Could Win Flag; Dodgers Can't Stop Tottering; Yankees Lose One

By MILTON RICHMAN
United Press Sports Writer

Milwaukee is making elaborate plans for winning the National League pennant next year but at the alarming rate Brooklyn is tumbling the Braves may not have to wait so long.

The bewildered Dodgers suffered their 12th setback in the last 18 games by losing to the Redlegs, 4-2, Friday night, while the Braves cut Brooklyn's margin to 10 games—lowest it has been since June 10—by defeating the fading Giants, 7-1.

Brooklyn, which led by 16½ games Aug. 12, has watched helplessly as Milwaukee has sliced 6½ games from its margin within a two-week period. If both clubs continue their present pace over the final four weeks of the campaign, the Braves will overtake the Dodgers and go on to win by three games.

The Braves played like red-hot pennant contenders Friday night while the Dodgers looked like be-draggled also-rans.

Del Crandall slammed his second grand-slam homer in 10 days to give Bob Buhl all the margin he needed for his 13th victory of the year. Buhl limited the Giants to seven hits in equalling his highest victory total since he entered the majors in 1953. Ruben Gomez was the loser.

Final Games Today At Stonefort Reunion

Two baseball games will be played at the Stonefort reunion today to determine the champions of a two-best-of-three series in midget and major competition.

In play yesterday the Midget league champs walloped the All-Stars by a score of 29-10. The winners raced across for twelve runs in the first inning to sew up the game.

Felty and Mitchell each had five hits for the winners and Adams got three safeties for the losers.

Carrier Mills' old timers slugged out a 13-6 win from the Stonefort old timers to take the series 2-0. Hill had two blows for the winners and Miller two for the losers.

This morning the Midget championship game was to be played and the Major title was to be determined in a game starting at 3 p. m.

Eldorado Host to College All-Stars

The Eldorado Merchants will be host to the strong Evansville College All-Stars Sunday in a game to be played on the Raleigh diamond at 2:30 p. m. This will be the second meeting of these two teams, with Eldorado taking a 10-5 decision July 24.

The Stars have added a new pitcher for this game by the name of "Big Jim" Nichols. He is a former minor league pitcher and last Sunday hurled a no-hitter against Shoals, Ind.

Eldorado will have their young right hander, Alva Sandusky, ready for the Stars. Last Sunday he pitched a three-hitter against Uniontown and retired 13 on strikes.

GEE, DAD,
YOU'RE SWELL!

It is a wise father who takes time out now and then to be chummy with his boy and to participate in his sports. The lad in the picture beams his pleasure as his dad prepares to "pitch him a few."

The bond of companionship between a good father and his son is one of the most helpful influences that can come into the life of a boy. Boys who enjoy such companionship seldom go astray.

What a striking contrast we observe in the other picture! Guilt and fear are written on the face of the boy with the stolen fruit. He has started on the long and painful road that leads to disaster.

Juvenile delinquency is one of the great social problems of our time. Unwholesome influences are abroad in the world to lead children astray. Without parental guidance, many of them drift into evil ways.

Parents need the help of God and the counsel of the Church in meeting this responsibility.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor in the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Quest for Asian Peace

"DELIVERANCE AND RETURN"
Isaiah 45: 1-4; 13; Ezra 1: 1-7
By Dr. Archie E. Brown
GOLDEN TEXT: "Look unto me, and be ye saved, all the ends of the earth; for I am God, and there is none else." (Isaiah 45:22)

INTRODUCTION: History repeats itself. We mean by this that a study of history will show that many events in history seem to happen all over again. It seems that man has a difficult time remembering that God has his guiding hand upon the nations. It is when man goes against God's will that he causes confusion for himself. The same is equally true of homes and nations.

It seems rather strange to us that Israel did not understand the leadership of God well enough to follow Him. Does it not seem that, after their first disobedience and punishment, they would never disobey again? It does seem strange until we examine our own hearts and the actions of our own nation. One battle scar does not heal before another one is on its way.

I GOD LEADS NATIONS

(Isaiah 45: 1-3)
Who would ever have thought that the strong nation, Babylon, could be overthrown? Certainly not many in Israel believed it. They were the slaves and captives in Babylon. Yet, Jeremiah had told them that God had promised that they should be free within seventy years. Why did they not believe him? For the same reason that you do not believe the preacher, God's spokesman today. The history of Israel is the record of God's dealings with a nation. In fact all of history is a record of God's dealings with the nations of the world. Your life's history is a record of His dealings with you as an individual.

Just when Babylon was feeling her strength, and Israel was feeling her weakness, God was preparing King Cyrus and his nation to free Israel and destroy Babylon. My! When will people and nations ever learn that God marches ahead of history?

II GOD HAS A PLAN (Isaiah 45: 13)
God never acts without a purpose. He has a purpose for everything that happens in nations and with individuals. Let us never forget that! It is our duty to look for God's purpose.

Romans 8:28 is as true today as the day God first caused it to be written. It states frankly that: "All things work together for good to them that love the Lord and are called according to his purpose." Not "some things," but "all things" happen for the best, if you love the Lord.

When you met with tragedy, did you recognize the hand of God in that tragedy? When you laid that loved one to rest, did you recognize that as being God's will? When the waters of your life were troubled, did you see God in it all? Or, when those wonderful blessings came, did you recognize God's hand in it all. Yes, it is always best to look for the purpose of God in all things in one's life.

III LOOK FOR GOD'S PURPOSE (Ezra 1:14)

God spoke to a heathen king by the name of Cyrus. Be it to the everlasting credit of Cyprus that he answered God's call. He was "stirred up" in his spirit. God had to keep his promise to deliver his people, Israel, out of captivity. Did you know that God has a storehouse full of blessings, with your name written on them, in heaven? He has! He may never get to deliver all of them, however. Delivery depends upon your calling for them. "Ask and ye shall receive; seek and ye shall find, knock, and it shall be opened unto you."

CONCLUSION — Only a small part of the children of Israel returned to the Promise Land. Their number was about 42,000. Why did not the others return? Because they were satisfied to settle down in worldly Babylon and live. Oh, my soul! How many people there are today who are willing to settle down among worldly, sinful things, and literally sell their opportunity to enter the "Promised Land."

How about you, friend? What price are you asking for your soul? Is it pleasure? Is it money, fame or fortune? Is it popularity? Whatever it is that keeps you from God's will; you are selling out cheap—mighty cheap!
